THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS LISTED FOR TAXATION HERE

Mason County Is One of the Wealthiest Counties in the State—Few Farmers But Who Had to File Income Tax Returns.

Saturday was the last day for filing income tax returns and it was one of the busiest days in the history of the local Internal Revenue office. Men were in line at the office door most all day and the office was open late to accommodate those who had put off filing their returns until the last minute to keep them from paying the heavy penalty attached by the government to those who did not file their returns promptly.

Although total figures will not be available for several days, it is known that many thousands of dollars were listed for taxation in this county. Mason county is purely a tobacco county and this year, as never before, the tobacco farmers have been handling big money. For this reason Mason county will rank among the wealthiest counties in the state when it comes to paying income tax and it is certain that there will be very few counties in the state who will report more income tax payers than Mason.

CHURCH WOMEN ASKED TO MAKE ORPHANS' GARMENTS

State Officer of the Red Cross Holds Meeting With Local Workers and Asks That Garments Be Made For Orphans.

A task was placed on the women of Mason county Saturday by one of the officers of the State Red Cross organization when she asked the women of this county to assist in making a large number of garments for the orphan children of France. The good women of the Red Cross in Mason county, as they have always done, accepted the task and will do even more than is asked of them.

In order that all of the women of the community might have a hand in this noble work, the officers of the Mason County Red Cross, Sunday, through the local churches, asked all of the women of the community to assist them in this task and the women of each church in the city were asked to make 200 of these garments, material for which will be furnished by the Red Cross.

It is understood this morning that all of the church women, in turn, accepted the task and before the first of April the women of Mason county will again "go over the top" in this undertaking.

MAYSVILLE WILL NOW HAVE BETTER LAUNDRY SERVICE

Beginning Next Monday — Modern Laundry Company Will Introduce New System of Collection and Delivery.

An aged-old custom considers Monday as wash day. In the Modern Laundry every day is wash day. But of course, everybody's washing cannot be done on the same day.

Heretofore fully sixty per cent. of laundry patrons have sent their work to the laundry on Monday.

Thus, laundries have been delayed with work the fore part of the week. The help have begun the week discouraged and dissatisfied, and the result has often been reflected in the work and service.

This unequal distribution of the work has been quite as much to the disadvantage of the patron as it has to the laundry. All employees do their best work when they clearly understand just what it is, and when they can see "over the top" of it.

Every day a certain amount of the work will be brought into the plants and an equal amount delivered to patrons. Many patrons have unfortunately, demanded special service. Given it once, some have acquired the habit. Special service is expensive to the laundry and patrons alike. There are occasions when special service is needed and will be given, but these occasions are few and will be greatly reduced under this new plan. The foregoing, and many other seemingly small items have been and are a big factor in the overhead expenses of a laundry; and along with the war, higher wages, increased cost of materials, etc., have been responsible for the higher prices which the laundry owners have been compelled to charge.

Neither the public nor the laundry owner can control the prices of material nor the wages of labor. But the laundry owners, with the hearty co-operation of the public, can, and will control some of the items of overhead expense, and prevent a further increase in laundry prices, if, indeed, they do not eventually lower them to a considerable extent.

HERE IS THE PLAN

Each patron will be advised as to the day and hour when each laundry's representative will call for their laundry. It should be ready and, he should not be expected to wait.

Hours of time, and gallons of gasoline and oil have been wasted while drivers waited for bundles. We will divide the total number of calls into five equal parts. One-fifth of the work will be collected Monday, one-fifth Tuesday and so on until Friday. In the same manner, one-fifth of the work will be delivered each day. There will be but one collection and one delivery each week on each route.

All collection and delivery of laundry work will be made each morning before noon. Telephone calls not being on salesman's route will be made in the afternoon each day. If the driver serving you calls at nine o'clock one week, you may expect him at the same hour each week, almost to the minute.

The same applies to delivery. Your driver will deliver your bundle at the same hour each week.

Each customer will be requested to have the cash ready. There can be no variation from the foregoing, as it would soon defeat the purpose of the plan which is—better work and better service for all.

No special rush work will be called for and delivered. Work brought to the office and called for may be had in shorter time than by the regular system.

The foregoing plan is now in operation in several cities, and has been received by the public most graciously, because its advantages are so apparent and its practical value so soon established.

It looks more revolutionary than it is. It is simply breaking up a custom, which is a custom only, and by no means a necessity.

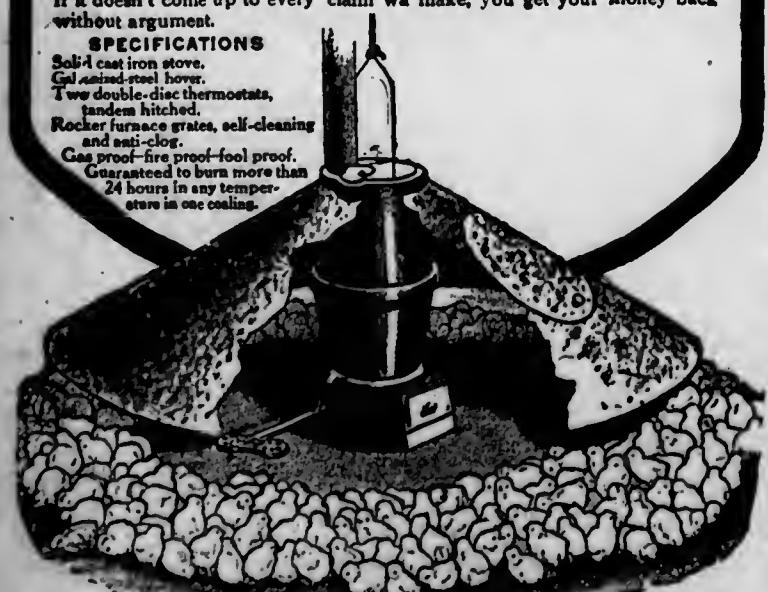

The laundry owner presents the foregoing, firm in the belief that its reasonableness and good sense will appeal to their patrons. This plan with the hearty co-operation of laundry patrons, will promote better conditions for laundry employees, which in turn cannot fail to result in better work and better service; and last, but not least, reduction rather than an advance in laundry prices.

E. H. RODEN, Modern Laundry.

BRITISH PRINTER, 5 TIMES WOUNDED, SPENDS DAY IN TOWN

Private Patrick R. O'Dovlin, Member of Royal Irish Snipers in the Greatest Battles of World War in Masstige En Route to Washington.

Private Patrick R. O'Dovlin, formerly an expert linotype operator and a first class printer, who was very seriously wounded many times in the great war before the United States entered the conflict, spent today in Maysville and was a very pleasant visitor at the Public Ledger office.

O'Dovlin was operating a linotype on the Liverpool (England) Courier when England entered the war and he immediately volunteered and was assigned to the famous Middlesex Regiment. He was later transferred to the famous Royal Irish mounted snipers and with that great regiment went through the greatest battles of the war.

He took part in such great battles as Mons, Dixmude, Ypres, La-Bosse, Neuve Chapelle, Armentieres and Messines. During this time he was seat to Salonika and Palestine with the Irish snipers and there he saw five months service. In all he saw two years and nine months service in the British army and he came out of it badly crippled.

He was wounded seriously five times and twice was overcome with gas. His left shoulder is entirely gone. His left leg is stiff from shrapnel in the knee. The left arm is swollen all out of proportion and shrapnel has torn away the most of his teeth and cut away a part of upper lip.

During the early part of 1917 Private O'Dovlin was very seriously wounded and was cited for bravery in dispatches from general headquarters.

He was awarded a war badge, of which he is very proud and a commendation from His Majesty, the King of England, is highly prized by him.

Being a native of the United States and having folks in this country, he was sent here on his request by the British government when he was honorably discharged, because of his wounds in 1917.

Because of his wounds, Mr. O'Dovlin is now unable to follow his trade for a livelihood and has been advised by physicians in the army hospital from which he has been discharged to seek open air employment.

For some time he has been in Missouri and is now en route to Washington where he will call on the British embassy and learn why his pension has been delayed.

It has been nine months since he received his monthly war pension apportionment and he has become so interested that he wants to visit the British ambassador at Washington and present his case to him.

Private O'Dovlin is a very interesting talker. He possesses more than ordinary intelligence and his descriptions of some of the war's greatest battles were listened to with much interest.

Besides the noticeable injuries to his body, Private O'Dovlin is very nervous and his health is badly wrecked.

OUR POLICY

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the County as a whole.

THE HUM OF INDUSTRY

You can sing no song of prosperity save to the accompaniment of the hum of industry. When industry lags, prosperity takes wings. Factory smoke may mar the brightness of skies, but it works wonders with the brightness in the home, and its brightness we are needing in the homes of America today.

We've had enough of gloom to last for a long time. Bringing the boys back will help tremendously. But if the boys come back to a poverty of jobs it will be another story. Some of them have come to just that thing.

To make it worse, America has acquired the habit of good times during the last four years. The world war caused the nations of Europe simply to bombard us with orders of all sorts that enforced prosperity.

Everything went ballooning, wages along with the rest. The average man made more money add more easily than he ever had in his life. Not infrequently habits of extravagance developed.

But the fact is that American generally expect these conditions to continue. There is no reason why they should not, why the bottom should fall out of things at all. We have a far better opportunity than our foreign neighbors, yet we will have to do our part to make the most of these opportunities.

Uncle Sam owes a tremendous amount of money to American industries. Something like $2,000,000,000, it has been stated. And he wants to pay it. The industries need it to branch out along independent lines, and the Victory-Liberty Loan will pay these debts—will help keep things going at high speed, and stave off industrial stagnation.

That's exactly what all of us want to see done. We want things to boom. How much our bond purchases will indicate. So help make industry hum.

PERSHING ON THE Y. M. C. A.

In these days when unkind things are being said about the Y. M. C. A. and the part it played in the war, it might be well to bear in mind what General Pershing says of this organization's work at the fighting front.

A dispatch from Chambon, France, says that the American Y. M. C. A., at its own request, has been relieved of its work in maintaining the post exchanges with the American army. Correspondence has been exchanged between General Pershing and E. C. Carter, in charge of the Y. M. C. A. with the army, resulting in this decision. On January 29, Mr. Carter wrote to General Pershing, saying that duties of the Y. M. C. A. in promoting athletics and entertainments were so heavy that he thought it should be relieved of the exchange work.

General Pershing in his reply said:

"As you correctly state, the Y. M. C. A. undertook the management of the post exchanges at my request at a time when it was of the greatest importance that no available soldier should be taken away from the vital military functions of training and fighting. As the reasons which impelled me at that time to request you to undertake this work no longer exist, I am glad to approve of your suggestion."

"In making this change permit me to thank you for the very valuable services and assistance which the Y. M. C. A. has rendered to the American expeditionary force in handling these exchanges. Handicapped by a shortage of tonnage and land transportation the Y. M. C. A. has by extra exertion served the army better than could have been expected, and you may be assured that its aid has been a large factor in the final great accomplishment of the American army."

We trust that this will tend to further silence those who would knock America's great second line of defense in the Great War.

Let Foch say to Germany: "Here's that suit of clothes. Take it or leave it. This is a one-price store, and we make no alterations."—Knoxville Journal.

TELLS AIMS OF ANIMAL TUBER-
CULOSIS FIGHT

Head of Federal Division Says That
Practically All Pure Bred Cattle
Will Be Placed Under Supervision.

Washington, March 14—The accredited herd plan of eradicating animal tuberculosis will be carried on until practically all pure-bred herds of cattle in the United States are under State and Federal supervision, says Dr. J. A. Kierman, Chief of the Tuberculosis Eradication Division, Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture.

When all pure-bred herds are under supervision, Dr. Kierman said, it will be possible for cattle raisers to purchase animals from other States with the assurance that they will receive cattle that may be introduced with perfect safety so far as tuberculosis is concerned. In addition to the accredited herd plan, the tuberculosis campaign will be carried on in enumerated areas comprising one or more counties. The disease will be eliminated from cattle and swine in such areas and the campaign will be extended until it takes in the entire State.

"In order that the work may progress satisfactorily," said Dr. Kierman, "it is necessary that live-stock owners cooperate to the fullest extent. The success of the movement for eradicating tuberculosis rests upon the livestock owners of the country to a greater degree than on any other force; whenever they are ready and willing to get behind the work success is bound to follow."

Speaking of the development of the live-stock industry in the Southern States, Dr. Kierman advised the live-stock men to use the greatest care in bringing in animals from other sections of the country and to make sure that they are free from tuberculosis. If proper precautions are taken he said, the amount of animal tuberculosis in the Southern States may never be larger than it is now and the disease may be eradicated in a comparatively short time.

Of course, we believe in health protection, all the same we doubt if a school girl should be compelled to wear enough clothes to keep her from looking stylish.

REGARD BLIND AS NOR-MAL MAN WHO CAN-NOT SEE, HE PLEADS

"Life isn't the number of years a man has lived. It is the number of experiences he has had in life. I consider my blindness only another experience—and, I might say, a very interesting one."

In such language Sir Arthur Pearson, the famous siologist, publishes, reveals the philosophy through which he has not only learned to be "a better blind man" himself, but has also been able to make the men of both American and English who have been blinded in the war adopt a similar viewpoint.

"Don't call these men blind; just think of them as normal men who cannot see, is the appeal of Sir Arthur in an interview in the April number of the Red Cross Magazine. "Give a man something to do," he continued; "that is all that makes happiness in life, whether a man has all his senses or only a few. Release the creative impulse, the creative energy, let the blinded man know that he can and is accomplishing something, and he is fixed. I tell you that our blinded at St. Dunstan's are really finding a true happiness!"

How great a work Sir Arthur has done through his belief in the possibilities for blinded men to become happy and independent may be judged from the fact that from Et. Dunstan's Hostel, in England, 600 men have gone forth to economic independence, while hundreds more are learning vocations by which they may support themselves in comfort.

DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR

Uncle Sam's bonds stand alone today as the only things one can buy and confidently feel that he is getting his money's worth dollar for dollar.

For Uncle Sam alone is accepting his dollars at their face value.

Every other fellow wants your money at a discount. Every article he offers you is at a price vastly more than it used to be. Doubled and trebled values are not unusual. And not one of them will maintain its present price.

Prices of all commodities must inevitably come down.

Already there is an indication that way.

And every such decline in prices automatically increases the value of your dollar; boosts its purchasing strength.

Dollars today buy less than half as much as they did ten years ago.

In another ten years they may be buying twice as much as they will now.

So you have a majority ::::: $50 or more.

So you have a mighty fine chance of increasing your dollars in this Victory-Liberty Loan, or any other of the government issues.

And that's what most of us seek to do in our investments.

Nor do many investments have behind them the absolute guarantee that Uncle Sam furnishes. The security afforded by all the wealth of America subject to the government's power to tax it.

There was never a safer investment. Never will be.

Never one with such a combination of loyal purpose and money-back certainty.

Never one that should cause you so little hesitation.

Never one that so nearly guarantees two dollars for one.

West Philadelphia, Pa.—"During the thirty years I have been married, I have been in bad health and had several attacks of nervous prostration until it seemed as if the organs in my whole body were worn out. I was finally persuaded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it made a well woman of me. I can now do all my housework and advise all ailing women to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I will guarantee they will derive great benefit from it."—Mrs. FRANK FITZGERALD, 25 N. 41st Street, West Philadelphia, Pa.

There are thousands of women everywhere in Mrs. Fitzgerald's condition, suffering from nervousness, backache, headaches, and other symptoms of a functional derangement. It was a grateful spirit for health restored which led her to write this letter so that other women may benefit from her experience and find health as she has done.

SO-CALLED OLIVE OILS
FALELY LABELED

Department of Agriculture Warns
Housewives to Read Labels
Carefully.

Washington—Several seizures have been made and a number of prosecutions instituted as a result of a campaign inaugurated by the officials charged with the enforcement of the Federal Food and Drugs Act against the interstate shipment of adulterated and misbranded olive oil.

Consumers are advised by the Bureau of Chemistry, United States Department of Agriculture, to read carefully the labels of all containers offered to them as containing olive oil to determine whether the manufacturer actually claims that the product is olive oil or merely suggests it by misleading devices. Some of these deceptively labeled products are sold by itinerant peddlers.

Cottonseed oil, corn oil, peanut oil, soy-bean oil, and other vegetable oils are wholesome, palatable oils, but they should be bought under their own names at prices much lower than the prices at which olive oil is usually sold.

AMERICAN BOYS IN PRISON BAND
NOW IN GERMANY

Doughboys Have Lively Time in Big German Band, Report Says.

Parls—Stone walls do not a prison make nor iron bars a cage, the American released from Rastatt prison camp corroborate, for wooden posts and barb wire formed their prison and there were bars of music exuded by the twenty-piece band and eight-piece orchestra and a bugle corps. The stories of softening the prisoners' lot with their own music is one which the musicians have told with gusto as an example of their high morale which deeply impressed their German guards to the extent of being subtle American propaganda. The musical instruments, by the way, were furnished the prisoners by the American Y. M. C. A. which also provided them with books, athletic goods and other necessities.

Concerts were given every night, the band played at football and baseball games and once the prisoners, through the intercession of the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, were allowed to rent the largest theater in Rastatt and put on a show of their own composition—and it was some show. The band was the pride of the prison. It was organized by Ergert H. A. number of The Rod Cross Magazine, explains why over four years of imprisonment in German jails, frequent solitary confinement and other indignities, failed to break his spirit. Four days after the armistice was signed, Max rode back into Brussels in triumph.

From the moment the German hordes appeared in the Belgian capital, Burgomaster Max resisted the tyranny of the invader. Firm in the knowledge of the rights of his people he daily risked death and for a time the military chiefs hesitated to imprison so dauntless a patriot. The defiance that finally led to his long imprisonment is described in Max's article.

Max and his councillors were meeting. A German officer appeared and addressed himself to Max:

"Your Honor, please follow me immediately to the office of the Kommandantur, who wishes to speak to you."

"I regret extremely," Max replied "my inability to precede you to the office of the Kommandantur, but I am in an important conference with my colleagues and I cannot disturb the meeting. At 5 o'clock I will go to see the Kommandantur."

Must

Wait!

Long party-line conversations hamper telephone service by making others sharing the line to wait—they must wait to send calls; they must wait to receive calls; Has this ever occurred to you? Because other must wait is a very good reason why party-line subscribers should observe the five-minute limit for local calls. Co-operation between subscribers keeps party-lines open for both incoming and outgoing service.

The Personal Side

In considering a bank or trust company as executor, many persons imagine that such relationship precludes the personal touch so likely to be desired by relatives and other beneficiaries. This is far from true.

On assuming the duties of executor, the Bank of Maysville at once establishes the closest possible relationship with those interested through an executive officer, who makes it his business to acquaint himself as fully as consistent with the many and varied details involved.

His services are thenceforth highly individual and personal. He is responsible to this Bank, which in turn is responsible to the estate and to the Court.

Preserve the integrity of your estate by putting it into the hands of this Bank which has these factors of dependability: Assured existence, collective experience, state supervision, and large financial responsibility.

BANK OF MAYSVILLE

Established 1835. A Combined Bank and Trust Company.

Today is County Court day in Robertson county and quite a number of Maysville merchants are spending the day in Mt. Olivet.

Chief of Police Harry A. Ort has been asked by the officers at Portsmouth, Ohio, to be on the look out for an Overland automobile stolen in that city Saturday night.

CHARGE AGAINST SOLDIER IS REDUCED

Charge of Flourishing a Revolver Is Wiped Out Against Joseph Johnson Who Pleads Guilty to Charge of Breach of the Peace.

Joseph Johnson, returned soldier, who was arrested Saturday night at Second and Market streets when he pulled a revolver and is said to have pointed it at another, entered plea of guilty to a charge of breach of the peace in Police Court this afternoon and paid a fine of $26.

Johnson was originally charged with flourishing a revolver but Attorney A. D. Cole, who represented Johnson, asked that the charge be reduced in consideration of the fact that Johnson had just returned home from the army. He had served for some time in France and had been wounded in battle and for this reason the prosecution permitted the charge to be reduced.

Relatives paid the fine and he was released.

COMMUNITY TEACHER

At the meeting of the Teacher Training Class in the Christian Church tomorrow evening the tenth and last lesson of the first unit will be discussed. This brings the class up to a review of the principle points of each lesson to prepare for a test that will be taken. It is requested that every member of the different Sunday Schools in the city who are enrolled in the class and many others will be present to prepare for these tests. The test questions will be based upon the printed questions following each lesson. It is these questions that will be reviewed in the class. In order to secure the examination papers from the Kentucky Bible School Association, the name of each person must be enrolled in the Louisville office, and it is likely twenty-five cents will be charged by the Association for the first test questions with no charge for the test questions which are to follow to the end of the course.
